- On 18 October 1950 about 75 percent of the Weimar-Mohra (H 51/J 46) airfield was being farmed by small settlers. The remaining landing field of 500 x 700 meters was serviceable only for courier planes. There were no indications of intended reoccupation or reconstruction. Large-scale work would be necessary to restore the landing field, but a large percentage of the former barracks buildings could be reconditioned within a short time. An ammunition or fuel dump on the southern edge of the field was surrounded by an additional fence and guarded by a sentry who wore red-bordered black opaulots. Other buildings on the southern edge of the field were occupied by civilians. An FDJ home was established in one building. *

25X1A * ☐ Comment. The report supplements a previous report and again confirms that no construction work has been in progress at the field. ☐
